TLDR

With over 20 years in game development I have been writing and designing games in nearly every genre and for almost every platform. I can help you find a direction or illuminate your current path.

ELABORATE

I fix games, taking broken and disparate systems and melding them to make a refined and beautiful play experience. My design driven narratives connect the players to the world to build interactive stories with character, impact, and emotion. From scratch I'll carve worlds of whole cloth, breathing life into Gods, factions, creatures, and an interconnected universe filled with intrigue, danger, and adventure.

CLIENTS

MODUS OPERANDI

I have loved games my whole life: from the Atari 2600 and Apple II, through Dark Castle on the Mac and the golden age of arcades. Board games, pen and paper RPGs, consoles from Nintendo, Sega, Sony, Microsoft, and PC gaming... Games are my calling. I seek to improve on what has come before... using my extensive knowledge to create innovative narrative driven games.
